Collin Miller, colored, broke into the smoke-house at Mr. John Kiernan's residence, on Broadway, about nine o'clock Saturday night, and was making his arrangements to carry off two hundred pounds of bacon when Mrs. Kiernan, hearing a noise in the yard, came out and caught him. She held on to him manfully and called for the police, but he pulled away from her and was making all the speed possible up the street when he was captured by Mr. Jerry Mengher, who happened to be passing, who turned him over to the police. Miller is a bricklayer by trade and has always borne a good character heretofore. After he was lodged in jail he told the police that a colored ex-convict by the name of Raley was associated with him in the theft and he was also arrested Sunday morning and lodged in jail. Both parties had an examining trial Monday afternoon, when Miller was held in $100 bond to appear at the Circuit Court and Raley was discharged.

Sharp's to notify him to take some calves off of his wheat, and while near the house of Sharp, one A. M. Roberts came out with a double-barreled gun loaded with slugs, and shot Helm, wounding him very badly. The neighbors of Helm are greatly excited about the affair, and if Roberts had not made his escape he would have likely seen up a limb. Roberts is a brother to Jacob Roberts, the fellow that stole hogs and tobacco in Scott county last fall, and also forged J. W. Sharp's and Ben Emerson's names to several notes.
